The Republican Candidate for Supreme Judge.

Henry W. Williams is the descendant of an old and respected family of Connecticut. He received his education at Amherst College in Massachusetts, entering that institution then under the presidency of Herman Humphrey, D. D., in 1883, and graduating in 1887. After a brief term of office as teacher, incited by that spirit of enterprise which is to operate upon a character of extraordinary energy, and looking abroad for a field of more growing promise than that of his native State in which to cast the fortunes of his future life, he crossed the mountains and settled in Pittsburgh. Arrived there he commenced the study of the law in 1889 under ex Chief Justice Lowrie, and two years afterwards was admitted to the bar of Allegheny county. He pursued the practice of his profession with eminent success until the fall of 1891, at which time he was elected to the position on the District bench, which he filled with signal honor until called by the Executive to supply the vacancy in the Supreme Court. Once on the Supreme bench, Judge Williams was immediately recognized as the peer of his learned and able associates.

Indictments.

The Grand Jury yesterday returned an indictment against the Commissioners of Crawford county for official neglect in the matter of building a new bridge over Old Creek, at the Franklin street crossing in this city.

Petroleum Items.

About two weeks ago a new well was struck on the Niagara Oil Company's tract in Crawford county. It has since been pumped steadily and now yields ten barrels daily. It is owned by the above named company.

There has been recently a squabbling in the excitement at Park. In the afternoon a fight broke out between two boys, one of whom is a member of the team which has been competing in the month, and will be completed in ten days or four days to come. Within that time they have to win two victories in order to complete the team. It is a matter of great importance to the team, and the fight was a very exciting one.

Probably the most important will that has been struck in this city is a will of a man who has been a resident of this city for many years. The will is a very important one, and it is expected that it will be a very interesting one.

The Returned Harvard Boys.

The "Harvard men," who arrived in the City of Antwerp, were dined at Delmonico's on Wednesday evening by the boat club of New York. The returned men were William Blake, Washington, D. C. Alden, F. Loring, Boston; Joseph L. Fay, Boston; Thos. B. Trickett, Boston; A. O. Evans, Boston; Messrs. Bam, Lyman and Simmons, three of the Harvard crew, are still in Europe, and will take passage on the City of Paris, on her next trip, in a few days.

The boys were in excellent health and spirits, and expressed themselves surprised to learn that their trip and race had created so much national feeling in this country. They speak in terms of the highest praise of the fair play and generous good feeling manifested towards them by the members of the boat club, people and press of England from first to last. They say that they did not fully realize, until they arrived in England, the magnitude of the "little job" which they had undertaken. While they are generous to the gallant Oxford, who won the race, and are cautious about giving expression to any remark that might be misconstrued or misapplied, they do not hesitate to regret that Simmons and Loring were not entirely well, and that they could have rowed against the Oxford without a Coxswain. The Harvard men do not find any fault with Mr. Burnham, their Coxswain.

On the contrary, they believe that he did as well as any man could under the circumstances. They also believe that the responsibility of declining to take advantage of the Oxford when he had the opportunity to do so, by forcing them to take water of the Harvard, which would undoubtedly have changed the result. Some of the reports received by cable, as well as the reports to the London press, charge cowardly upon Mr. Burnham for not taking such advantage when the opportunity was offered him. The object of taking such advantage by the Harvard boat was talked over before the race commenced, and Mr. Loring, the "stroke," gave Mr. Burnham positive instructions not to do so at the best chance was offered him, that it would be considered taking unfair advantage, and he (Loring) viewed it as ungentlemanly conduct.

Mr. Burnham acted accordingly.

It is not yet settled whether the Oxford will visit the United States and measure arms with the Harvard in American waters, both to row with and to race, but the Harvard think such a trial will come off in their day.

Mr. Blake has been appointed "Pardon Clerk," in Attorney General Hoar's Department, to succeed Mr. Hoar's son, who has gone to Cambridge to study law. After Mr. Blake has read up all the reports and comments upon the race in the American press written here and received by telegraph from England since the City of Antwerp sailed he will prepare a careful review of the great international race for Harvard.

The Harvard men found about two hundred congratulatory letters awaiting their arrival at the Astor House.

FAIR FASHIONS—A BRILLIANT AND SUCCESS

FAIR FASHIONS—A BRILLIANT AND SUCCESS. The fair fashion editor followed the best line through yesterday to witness the grand exhibition of fall and winter styles at Madame Tracy's Millinery on Spring street. And a more beautiful display it was never our good fortune to see.

The fall and winter styles were there to be seen in all their beauty and variety, and we were sure to make our check or our bill and make a gift distribution among the ladies who crowded around the show cases and peddled with unbounded expressions of admiration and delight. The windows were beautifully decorated with fabrics of the first quality, unexcelled in richness as of color and elegance of style—velvets, ribbons, flowers and plumes in kaleidoscopic variety and profusion. Upon entering the store the first object that arrested the attention was a doll angel, suspended from the ceiling (just as near the clouds as possible) and very artistically modeled. But the chief attraction was the large show cases containing pattern hats, bonnets and choice trimmings to match. Among the most noticeable was an imported bonnet of black velvet that would have captivated Eugene Ruyter. It was trimmed with black velvet flowers, tinted with mother of pearl, threaded lace and ribbon. Price $30. Didn't we wish we were feminine and could wear it to church to-morrow? Then there was another, of white royal velvet trimmed with white flow and a white ostrich tip, and wide ribbon ties. It was lovely and cheap, at $16. Next was a brown velvet trimmed with satin and choice flowers of the same color, wide ribbon for ties—only $15. The "Jeannette," made of black tulle, trimmed with scarlet grasses, a long barbe of lace falling on the back and designed to fasten on the shoulders with bows of black ribbon. It was very much admired, at $15. The "Biden" was a turban made of black feathers and blue velvet trimmed with blue and black ostrich tip, a black lace barbe to fasten on the shoulders with blue ribbon bows—very handsome, at $13. Also the "Constance," "Augusta," and "Nancy" made velvet hats, gaily trimmed with fancy feathers and flowers. A turban trimmed with mussel colored feathers, with a braid of black velvet lined with mink satin and fastened on the right shoulder with black ribbon bow. Very pretty, at $11. Another of black velvet, at $11.

But why continue the description, when the ladies will all go to inspect these elegant fabrics for themselves. Madame Tracy is a skillful and popular artist, and her goods are not only elegant and a la mode, but as everybody must admit, unusually attractive this season, and we do not wonder that ladies of taste "most do congregate" where they find the best class of goods in a few fresh elegant, and so to speak, in expensive.

NEW CANNETWARE AND UPHOLSTERY—We are pleased to inform the citizens of Titusville and surrounding country, that Geo. J. Henkle, the celebrated cabinet maker of Philadelphia, has opened a store in Titusville for the sale of fine furniture. Mr. Henkle's well known reputation is a guarantee for the quality of the goods, and having been in former years largely engaged in oil operations in Crawford, Venango and Clarion, he is personally and favorably known to many of our prominent citizens. Mr. Joseph R. Cushing, who has been for a long time connected with Mr. Henkle in Philadelphia, will attend to the business in this city. Mr. Cushing will have the advantage of selecting from Mr. Henkle's large stock in Philadelphia to supply the wants of customers. Call and see them, at No. 28 Diamond street, second door West of the Crittenden House.

GOVERNOR HOFFMAN has transmitted to the Secretary of State, at Washington, his official certificate that New York has ratified the fifteenth amendment. The certificate had been so long withheld that a great many of the "seeks or nothing" Democrats had begun to entertain a hope that it would never be sent to the Department of State. A good deal of indignation is therefore, felt by the most unscrupulous of the "unaffiliated" at the action of Governor Hoffman, and the deed will be long treasured up against him.

CHOICE PRODUCE at Shank's, very cheap. Fall car lot will arrive this morning, also choice sweet potatoes, grapes, and all kinds fruit and vegetables.

AMERICA.

Reports have been received of damages to fifty-seven churches in New England by the storm.

The master of ceremonies at a recent Boston funeral announced: "The corpse's cousin will now come forward."

A loyal fellow in the Dominion invented a new device for "killing the King," which was sung "The King is dead."

May Lind, though but forty-eight years of age, looks over sixty. Her husband looks twenty years younger than herself.

Chicago was greatly excited at hearing that a Cafe Turc was to be opened in McVicker's Theatre, with Turkish ladies in attendance. Chicago quieted down, however, on finding that the Cafe Turc was only a name, and hearing the be-trothed waitress inquire, "And what will you please to order now?"

The mosquitoes of Alaska are most agreeable insects. They distill a delicate aroma when they bite which has the anesthetic effect of chloroform, and their bite is not venomous. The tired traveler course their music as a prelude of a good night's rest. Mr. Seward was so pleased with this product of Alaska that he took pains to have some specimens sent to the Patent Office in Washington.

Chesney is a town of some 2,000 inhabitants. A year ago it had 8,000, but the White Pine and the Sweetwater mines have drawn most of its people away.

A base ball club has been organized at New Orleans, composed of negro boys, and known as the "Aromatic," though for what reason is not stated.

Mrs. Myra Bradwell, of Chicago, who edited a law journal there, is about to be admitted to the bar. She will practise law in partnership with her husband.

Dr. Mackenzie thinks there are five copies of Byron's autobiography, the original of which was burned by Moore, still in existence.

Smelling will soon begin at the nickel mines in Litchfield. Miners enough are coming from Germany to reduce ten tons of ore daily.

Kansas boasts of its immense crop of potatoes, which are "excellent for dogs and cattle, and splendid for railroad laborers."

Mr. T. J. Van Wyck, of New York, one of the leaders at North Conway, N. H., had caught no far this season 3,282 trout, and thinks that during three seasons he has been there, the whole number he has caught would amount to about 12,000.

Mr. Buntline said at the Chicago Temperance Convention that "seven tenths of the people of California go down to the grave through drink," and now the San Francisco newspapers tell him he hasn't come into good society when he gets back.

Green Clay Smith—a Kentucky Brigadier-General, afterward elected to Congress, appointed by Andy Johnson to be Territorial Governor of Montana—has now reverted to his original profession, and preached a sermon last Wednesday before the Baptist Association in Stanford, Ky.

The photographers of Milwaukee have cleared the streets of that city of loafers, by photographing the groups and exhibiting them in the windows as "City Loafers."

The remarks of a clergyman at a colored funeral in Philadelphia were interrupted by the diverging way, dropping the whole party into the cellar and rolling out the corpse into a coal bin.

Utah is mourning over the sudden death of Elder Ezra T. Parsons, one of the "Twelve Apostles." He was born in Mendon, Mass.

An Episcopal minister in Philadelphia, who married a thousand couples during a fourteen years pastorate, but himself remains a bachelor.

A frontier horseman in Kansas City, Mo., rode his horse up three flights of stairs, and then hired six negroes to carry him down again.

Lucas, the lion tamer, came to Titusville by a pretty face. He took his eyes off the lions to look at a nice girl among the spectators, and the next instant the best were upon him.

Chicago doesn't patronize the century plant. A paper of that city says it isn't worth the pains to see it, and that the persons having it to exchange have overreached themselves in the speculation.

By industry and economy a young man has saved possession of 4,000 acres of land, worth some millions, just out of San Francisco, in eight months, and people are so much as to suspect a swindle.

A Chicago paper concludes an account of a marriage in that city with the declaration that the parties were not united for life. If they were, it was certainly the first altar of the kind that ever occurred there.

The Winterset Iowa, Malinsion says that John McMillen, of Walnut township, found in his harvest field an enormous spider. Its body was as large as a mouse, and it covered with legs as large as five inches of ground.

In a certain Georgia town the horse has found out that as a steamer touches at the wharf some corn is usually scattered about. It is not only the sound of a steam-whistle, which draws the hungry hog population to the river side.
